ADMINISTRATION

Dallas Independent

Dr. Estes, School Boards Seek New Ideas

Dr. Nolan Estes, in his first year as Superintendent of the Dallas Independent School District, has been mainly concerned with furthering new concepts of education. He has expressed his interest in student government for schools, and along with the newly elected school board, he has tried to make this first year of his job one of student, parent, and school cooperation.

Mr. Santillo Inspires Respect Of Students

In his fourth year as principal of W. T. White, Mr. Santillo has shown his concern and unselfish interest in the success of White's students. He has established himself as a good leader, and in doing this, he has gained the respect of the entire student body.

Mr. Golden Furthers School Spirit

Probably the greatest single spirit booster at W. T. White is Mr. Golden. In his job as assistant principal, Mr. Golden had an opportunity to talk with many members of the student body this year, and the students were impressed with the spirited ambition he had for the school.

Counselors Eagerly Help New Students

Mrs. Presson discusses colleges with senior Melissa Liles.

This year White had five counselors to handle the increase in the student body. Therefore students found that there was a greater opportunity to discuss future plans with their counselors. Sophomore counselors met their students with the hopes of counseling them through all three years of high school, while other counselors continued to help the junior and senior classes in college choices.

Special Services

Help The School Run Smoothly

This year, as in years past, the special service personnel has done many hours' work "behind the scenes" in order to help White move at a steady pace from day to day. With a larger student body, the efficiency of the office staff was necessarily greater and daily tasks were performed with accuracy by these very capable people.

Sponsors Private Showing of Macbeth

On Nov. 20, 1968, five hundred students and teachers from W. T. White attended a private showing of Macbeth at the Dallas Theater Center. Faculty and student body alike agreed that the performance was excellent and the fact that they were there as a group made it especially enjoyable.

The performance of Macbeth was only one of the "aids" that English teachers used this year. The department also purchased a tape recorder and record player. In addition, it acquired several sets of records, including the play Antigone, from which the students could hear the performance of entire selections.

Tests New Course In Analytics

This year, the senior math students at White were the "guinea pigs" for a new course entitled Analysis 8. This semester course was taught in the spring, opposite trigonometry. The analysis course proved to be very interesting and different in that it successfully combined aspects of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

Another new course established this year was Advanced Calculus. While using the same book as Pre-Calculus students, the advanced class worked more rapidly and went further in the book.

An advanced course in computer was initiated for those students who began computer training last year; the beginners' course also continued on an "after school" basis.

Foreign Language Department

Helps To Further Understanding Of Foreign Countries

One of the prime purposes of the Foreign Language Department this year, in addition to the actual teaching of the languages, was to create better understanding of the people of foreign lands. In studying a language, a pupil found it helpful to know the background and customs of those who originally spoke it. Thus, with the use of films and other teaching aids, the language teachers at White promoted additional studies of the world, both in their classrooms and their respective clubs.

Science Department

Broadens The Scope Of Advanced Courses

With the addition of a course in vanced chemistry, the science department at White broadened its scope this year. Previously, the only advanced chemistry, the science deistry, which mainly concerned biology. However, due to the rise in student interest, White offered both courses.

Also showing the rise in the students' scientific interest was the formation of a science club. The idea began with advanced biology students, and, due to their enthusiasm, arge portion of the student body joined the organization.

Social Studies Department

Adds New Course And New Teachers

Over half the teachers in the Social Studies Department were new to White this year. Therefore, students found their history courses sparked with new ideas and enthusiasm.

Latin American History was the new semester-length course taught in the Social Studies Department this year. The course was not originally taught on the honors level, yet it did use a college textbook. Spanish students were able to use this course as a background for that language.

White's three programs of vocational education(Industrial Cooperative Training, Distributive Education, and Vocational Office Education) have expanded greatly this year. Many students found that the classroom and office experience combined created a fruitful atmosphere for vocational training.

Fine Arts Department Takes Interest In Greek Theater

During the fall the Greek theater came to Dallas and W. T. White. A member of the company performing at the Theater Center presented a lecture to several interested classes. His talk concerned every phase of old Greek theater, including the masks worn by the actors, the "singing and dancing" used, and the Greek drama itself.

This lecture, plus the musical, dramatic, and artistic events of the year, was sponsored by the creative efforts of the Fine Arts Department.

Mrs. Dempster prepares the art room for visitors.

Physical Education Department

Promotes Health Education

If the White Student Body is in great shape, one reason is the Physical Education Department. The Department this year sponsored activity and exercise and health education. Students were taught the forms of exercise to help strengthen their bodies' resistance. They also learned the types of food that were good for their health.

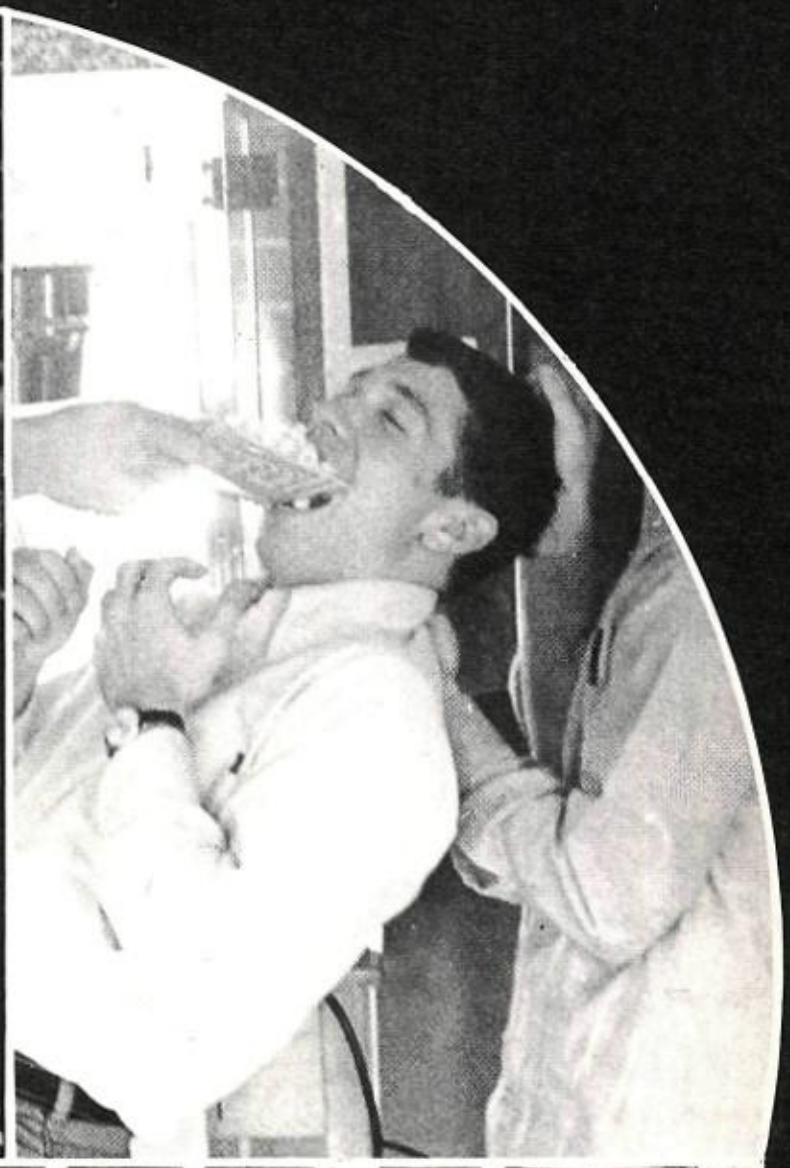
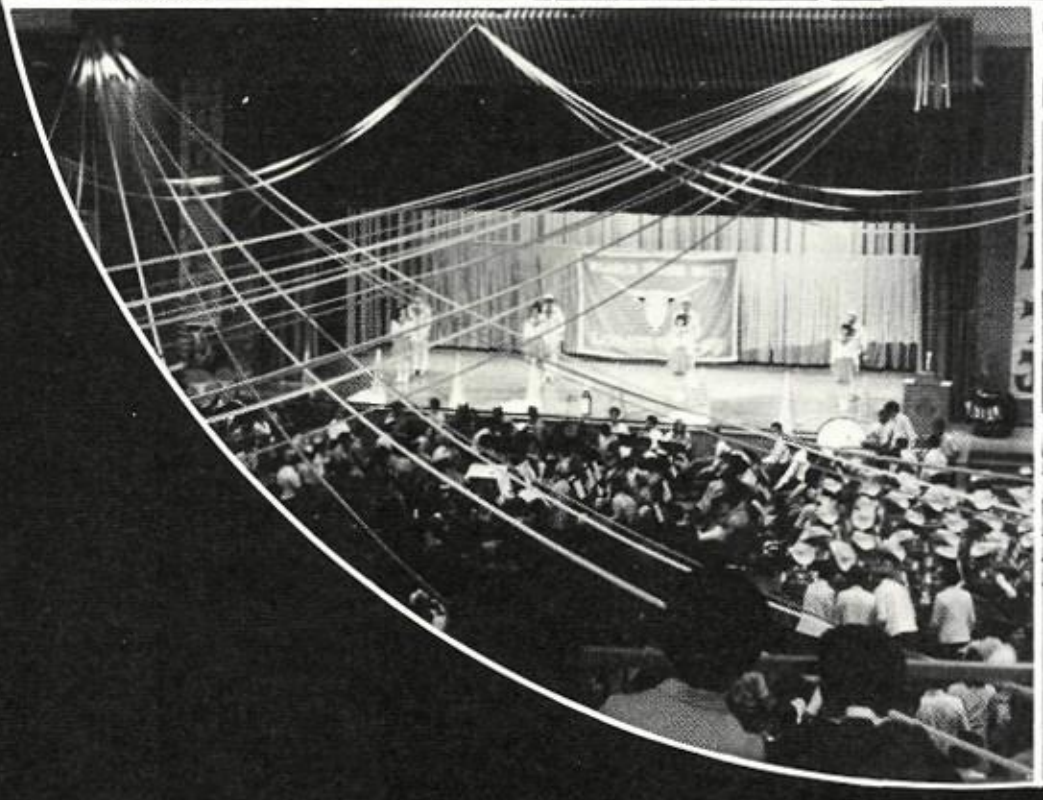
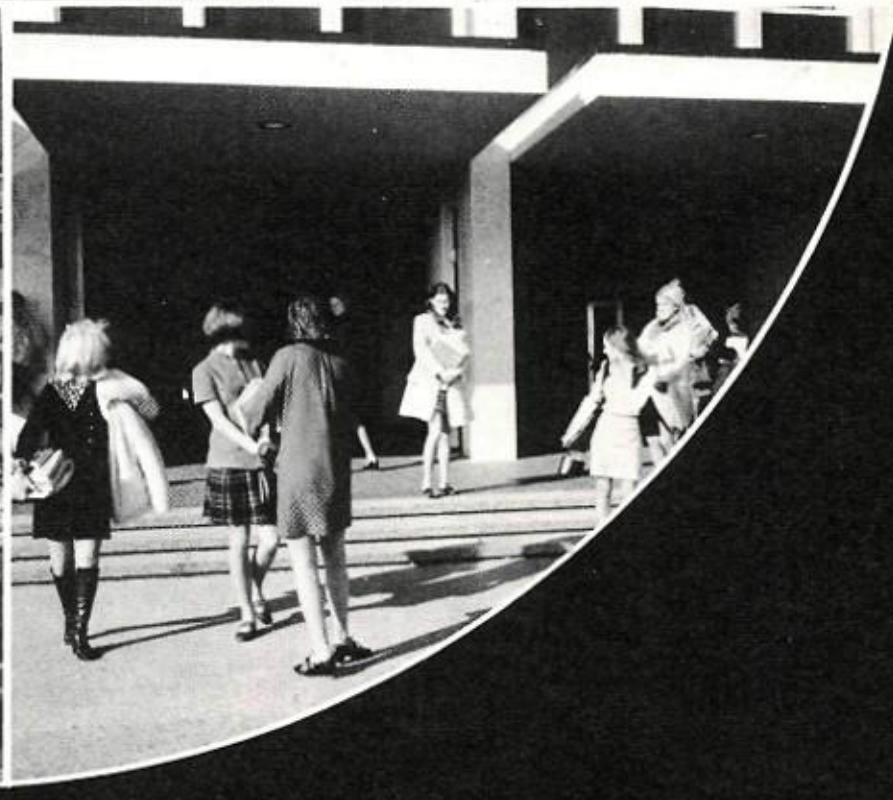
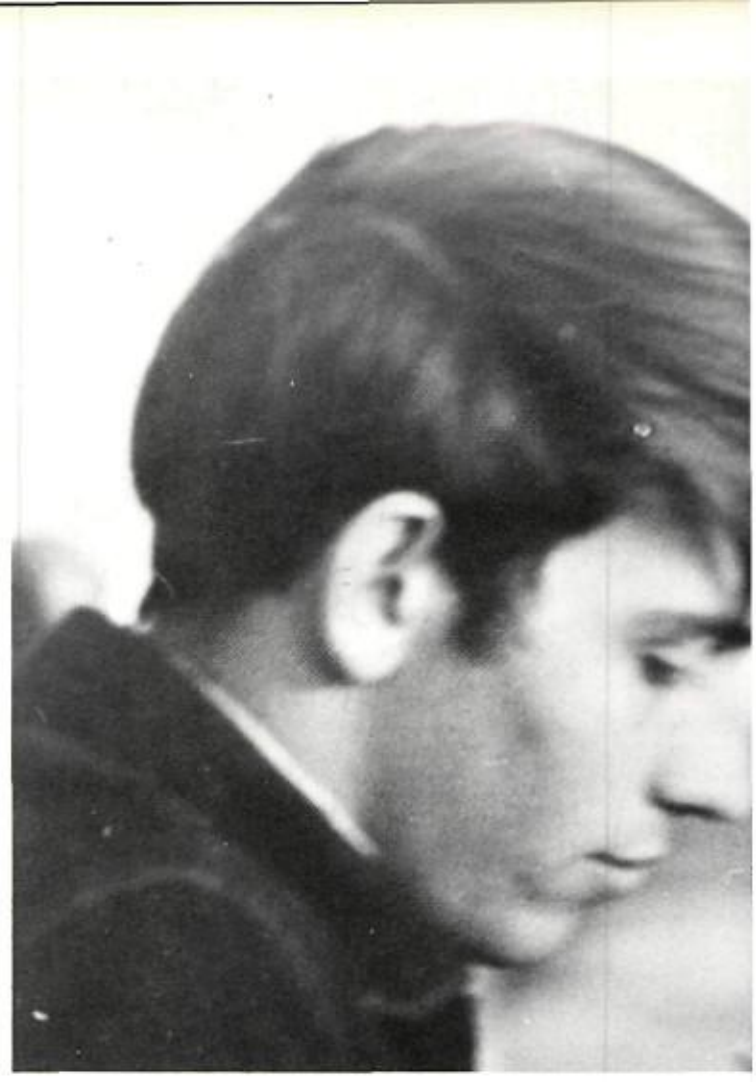
STUDENT LIFE









We must seek the future;
The future will not seek us.
The doors to success will not open by themselves.
We must find them and open them
for ourselves.
Every moment of time is valuable,
For once it is lost there is no
recalling it.
A time of knowing is upon us.
It is now that we must make decisions,
Decisions which will determine
our future and our success.
And so, with our thoughts lingering on yesterday's memories,
And our eyes looking forward to tomorrow's dreams,
The summer was lost in time,
And the new school year opened up in front of us.

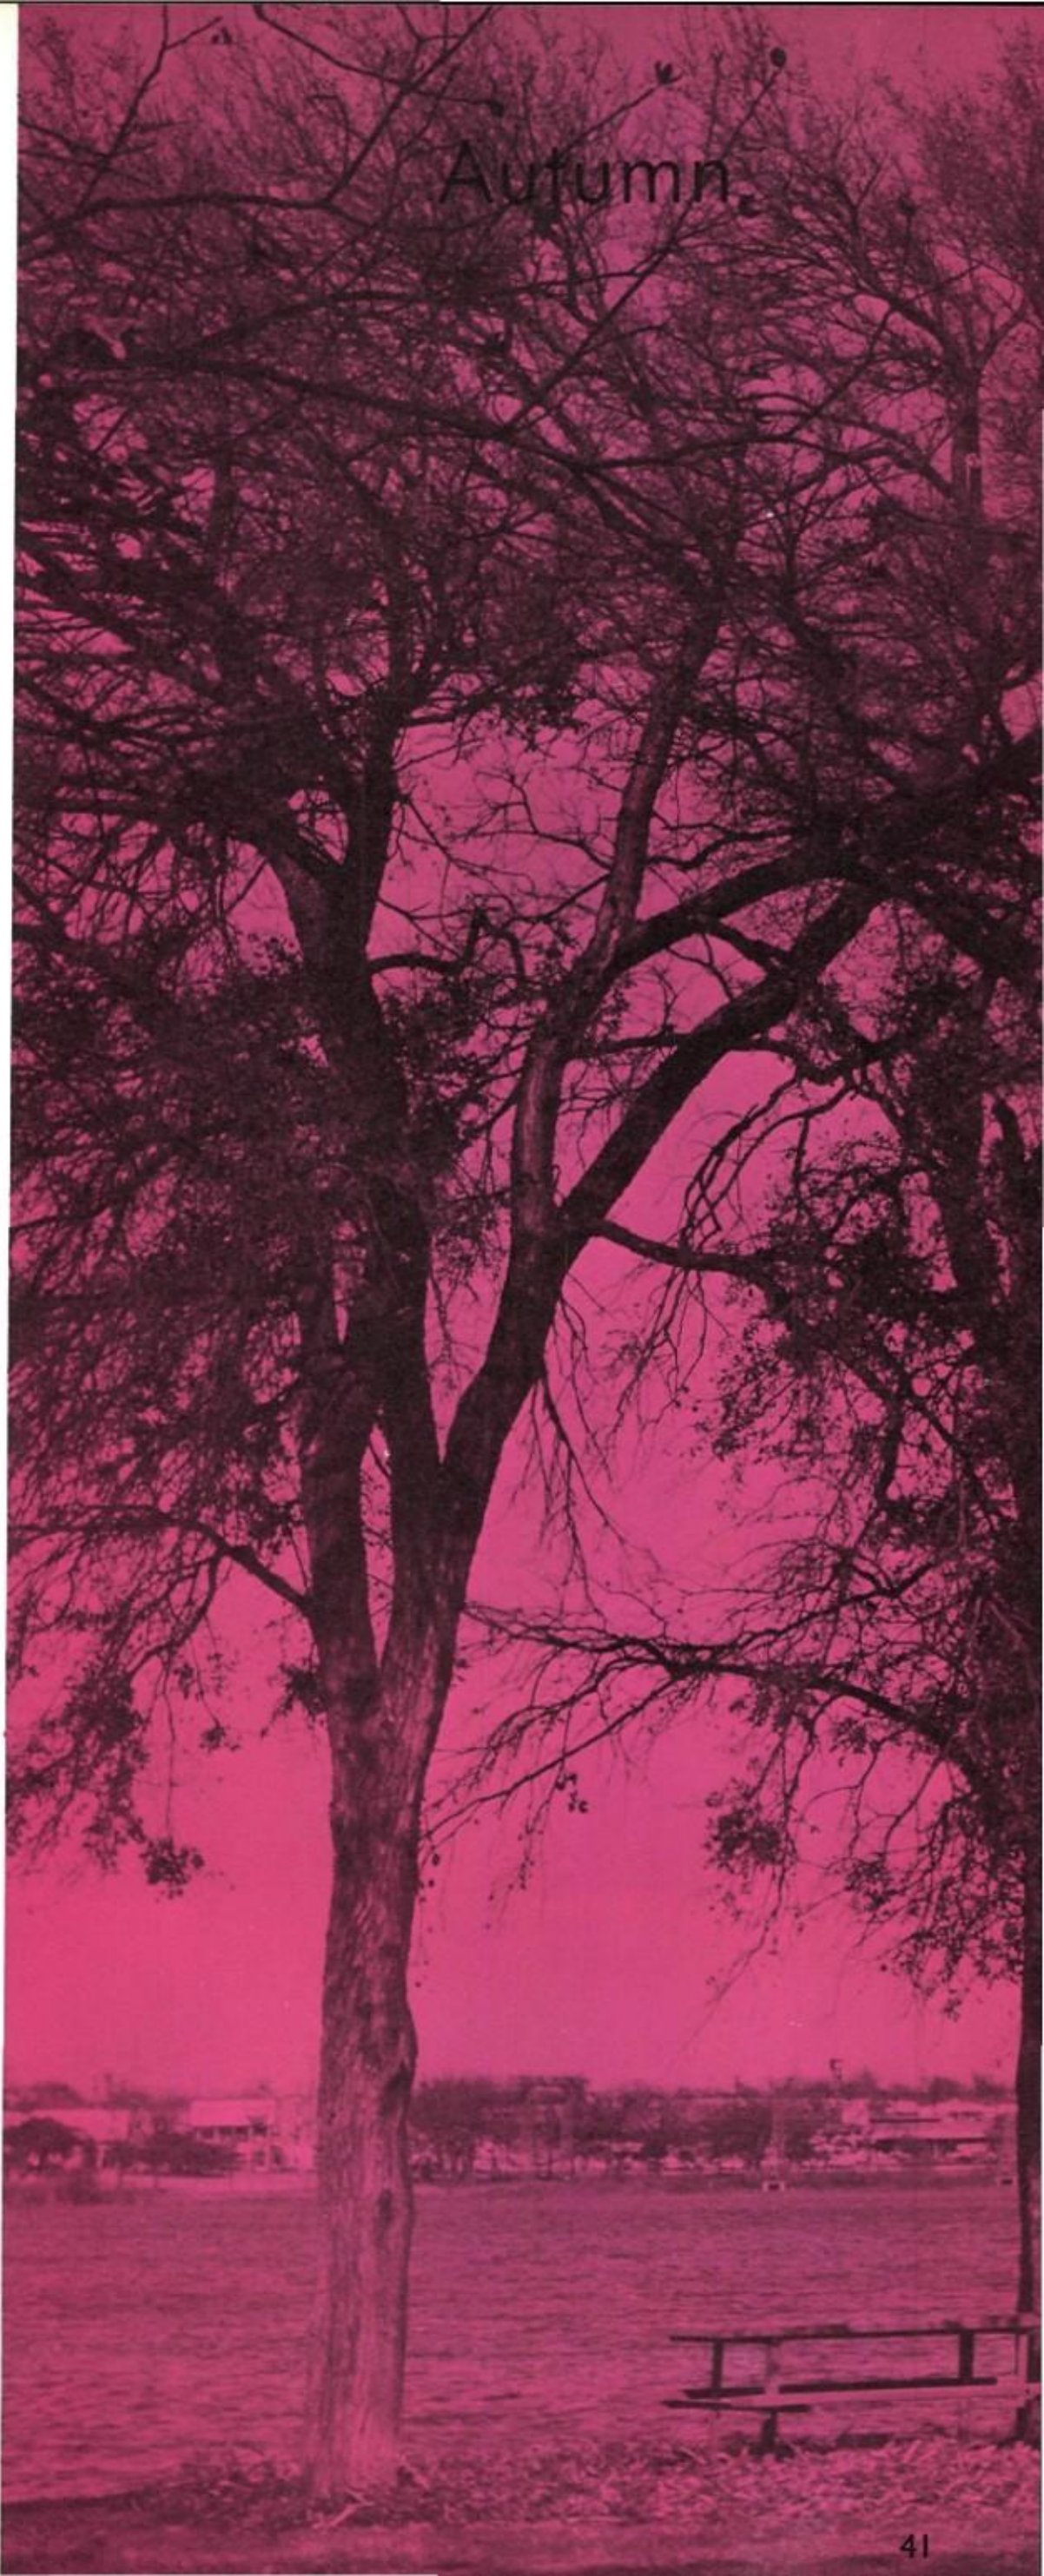
Autumn—A time to dream.

Longhorns boost spirit.



Autumn

Dear John,

I've known you for a short time only but I think your wit and sense of humor are unsurpassable! I'm blessed to have you as a friend and I don't think it was an accident that we got to know each other. I hope our relationship will increase in the future. God Bless you.

Winter

Time has once again passed before us.
The leaves of autumn have fallen
and a crispness has filled the air.
A whisper of snowflakes and an atmosphere of gaiety surround us as we plunge deeper into the year.
No longer are we struggling to find our place in a new school but by now we have friendships to cherish and discoveries to ponder.
Our future seems to have become more evident.
Our successes have begun to fulfill our hopes.
But we are still faced with the problems of tomorrow
Once more do we turn to ourselves
for the answer.
For there are no other prophets.

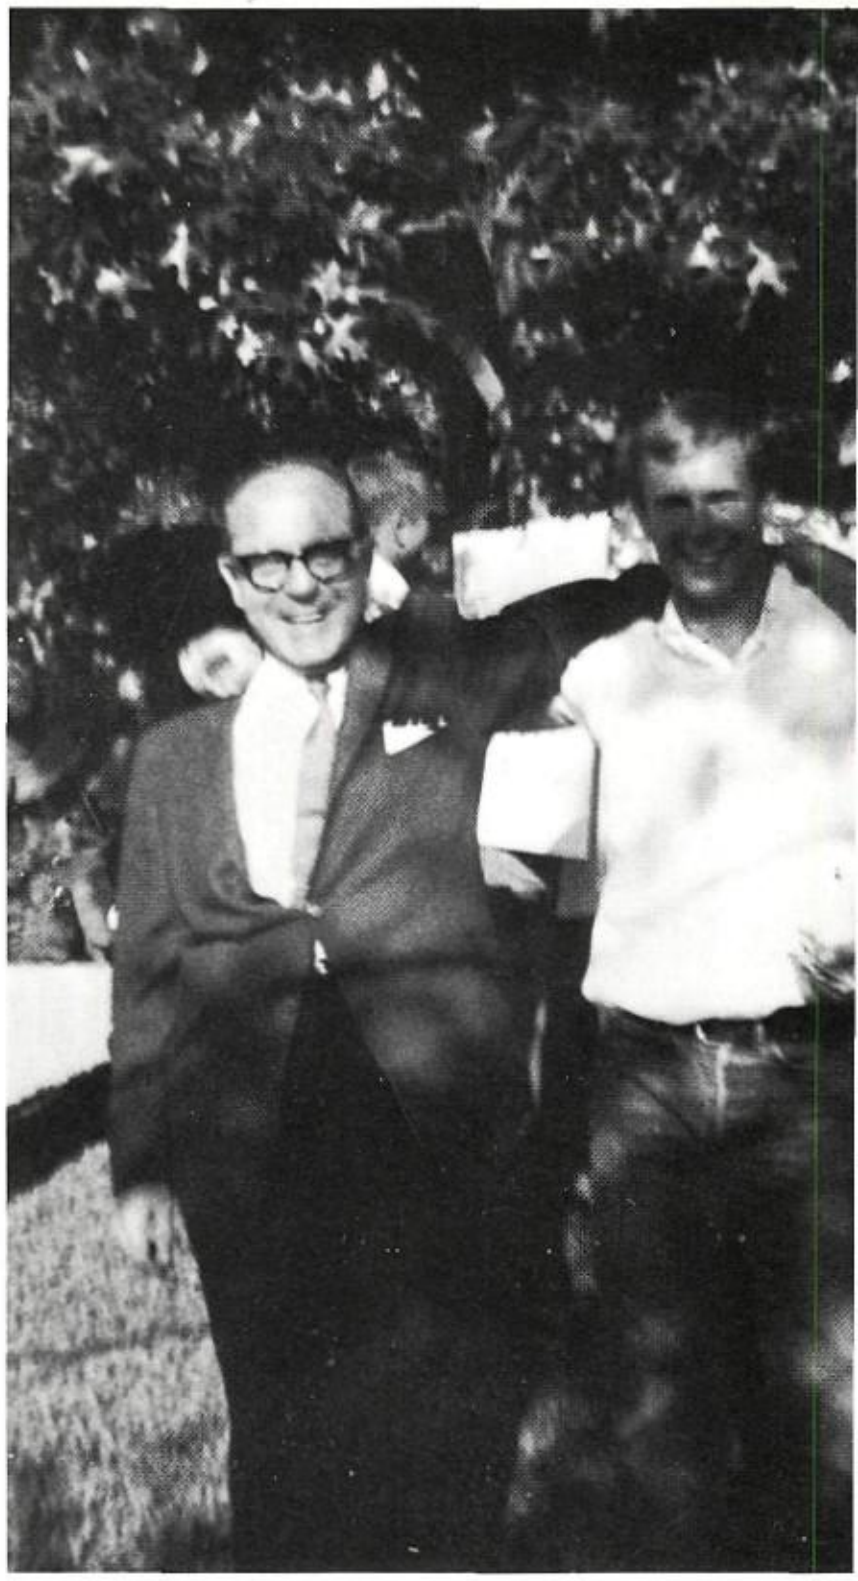
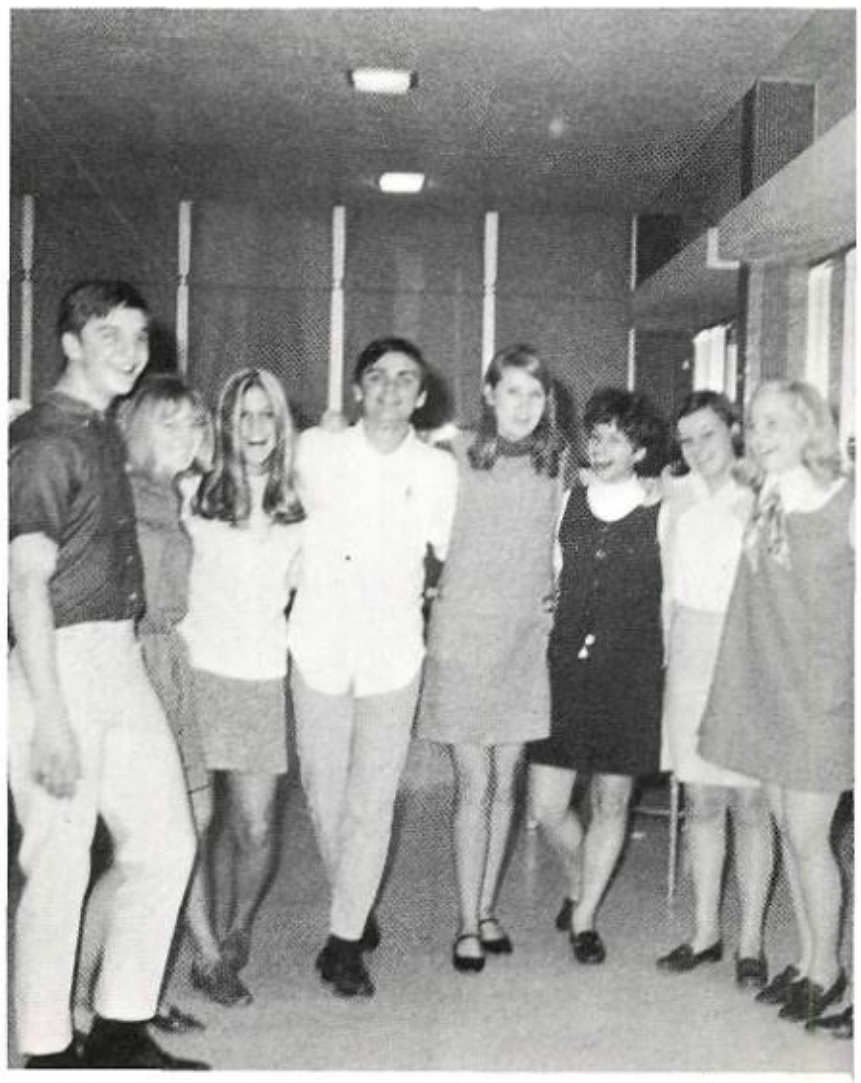
Spring



Memories of fun.



Memories of laughter.

The time of year has come when the whole world seems to come alive. It is the time when every student looks longingly out of the window dreaming of those lazy days of summer.

Each day seems to be longer and longer as the end draws near.

But amid all of this, there is an air of excitement everywhere.

For Seniors it is an excitement of the finish of the "good 'ole high school days" and the beginning of the fulfillment of their highest goals and dreams.

For others it is simply the joy of the end of the school year.

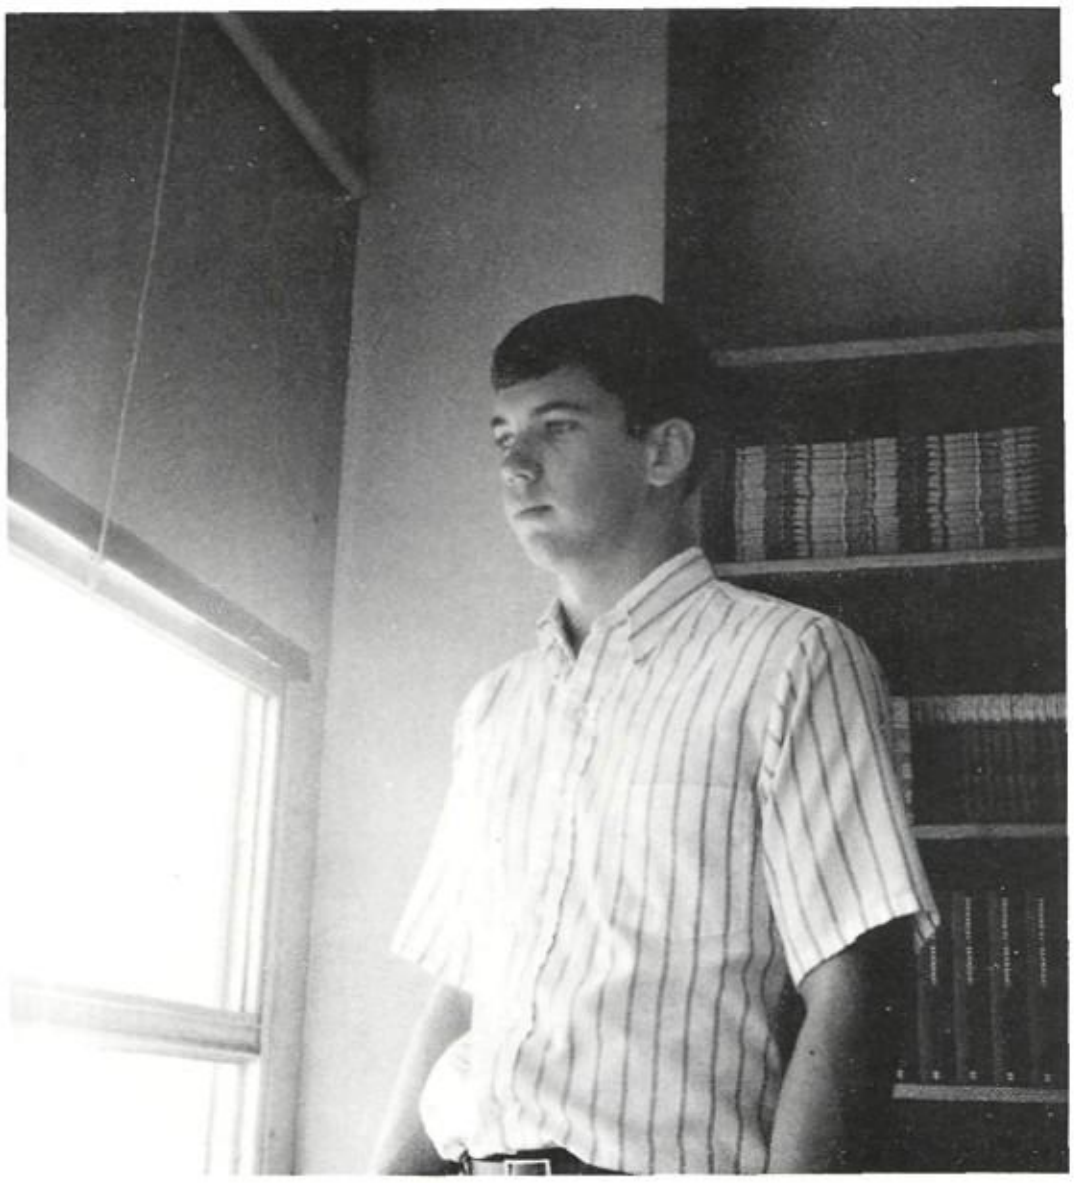
But for everyone there are things which the end of the year will not erase.

Things which will go on and on after the year has long since gone by.

These things are memories.

Memories of happiness and sadness, laughter and fun.

Memories which will live on to be recalled as the "Year of 1969."



It is a time when every student looks longingly out of the window.

Memories of sadness.

The end of the year brings barren halls to White.

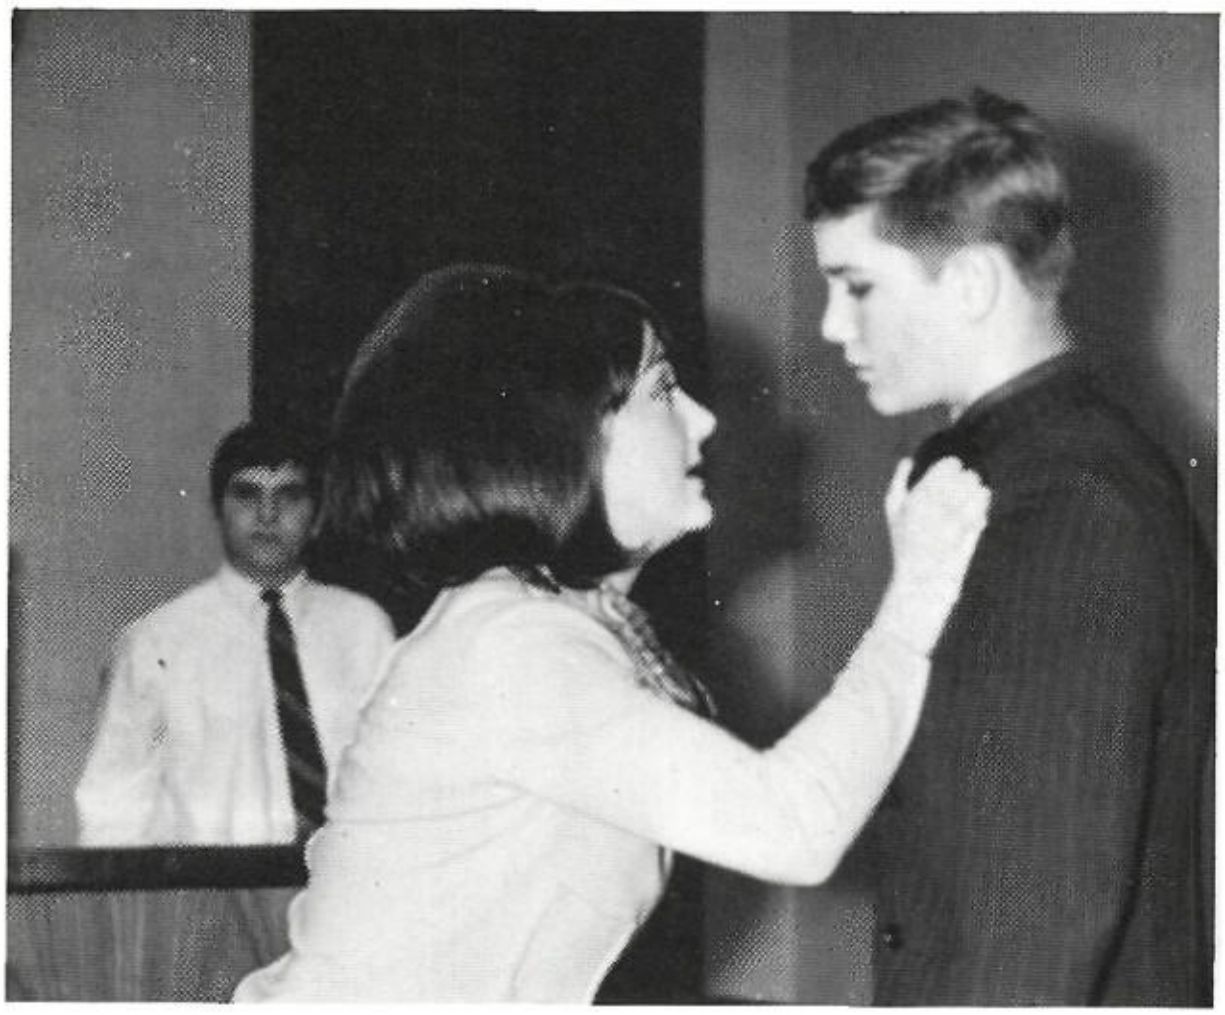
NIGHT OF JANUARY 16

On the night of January 16, Bjorn Faulkner was murdered. On the nights of Dec. 6 and 7, defendant Karen Andre was pronounced "Not Guilty" by the jury in W. T. White's 1969 Senior Play, "Night of January 16." Under the direction of Miss Beverly Pichon, and with the support of an outstanding cast, Ayn Rand's courtroom drama came alive before a record-breaking crowd of 900 people.

Not only were the lead performers excellent, but also the minor characters provided much of the excitement and comic relief. The scenery created by the stagecraft class was authentic, due to much research by the set designers; this added extra realism to an exciting play.



Karen Andre (Shelle Jacobs) pleads with Larry Regan (Tom Werhle).

Mrs. Faulkner (Sylvia Spangler) makes a startling entrance.

Beginning with the successful Homecoming '69 in November, the Warren Travis White Student Council took action to promote the interests of all students on campus. As the major student government organization, the Council seeks to serve as a bridge between the students, faculty, and the administration in all areas of the school. Activities include the traditional donations of food to be sent to needy families for Thanksgiving, as well as new projects such as starting a school information booth. The year was highlighted in the fall when Senator John Tower spoke at the initiation ceremony. All in all, through capable leadership and with the cooperation of the administration, the Council has been a big success.

An idea, a plan, some pictures, a layout, and soon the realization that one page of the yearbook is complete—this is orderly procession that goes into the building of a good book. Much planning and hard work have gone into this year's annual, and the staff hopes that the book can mean as much to the student body as it does to all of us. This book includes a lot of different experiences that should not be forgotten. It provides a way of remembering times past . . . something to be kept forever, the SAGA '69.

CHEERLEADERS
Boost Spirit

At the center of every school's spirit are its cheerleaders. This is especially true at W. T. White, where our eight cheerleaders have brought school spirit and enthusiasm to an unprecedented height. This year's cheerleaders have positively formed a nucleus which has pervaded all athletic events, and which has helped to raise spirit in both the games and the pep assemblies. Through their efforts they have helped make the White student body "second to none."

FRENCH CLUB . . .

"La joie de vivre" has been displayed this year by the French Club, and the organization has been busier than ever. In October, the club had a Halloween party to which members came dressed as different French characters. For Christmas, the club met and sang carols all in French. Among other projects, they have viewed films of France taken by the sponsors and even spoken with a Parisian girl who came to a fall meeting. Members must maintain a B average and French is spoken at all meetings.

White 0, S. Garland 26

The Longhorns were plagued with fumbles and pass interceptions all night. The ball swapped hands no less than 11 times during the contest. Because the receivers had difficulty holding the ball and because of the fumbles and interceptions, the Longhorns lost their first game of the season 26-0.

In a windswept Franklin Field, onlookers saw White take to the scoreboard first, on a one-yard plunge by quarterback Mike Thompson. The score followed an interception by Charlie Daniels, coupled with a slashing 43 yard carry by Joe Clark.

White scored again on a fumble recovery by Mazel Merrill after it had appeared Joe Clark was already in the end zone. Nonetheless, White could no longer hold the aerial attack by Gilyard and the second half was all theirs, 20-12.

Although the Longhorns lost this game, it proved to be one of the most exciting of the season. White scored four times—once in the second quarter and three times in the last. White 7, Bryan Adams 40

The Longhorns fell to Bryan Adams, the District 11-AAA Champs, by a score of 40-7. The Cougars owned a 20-0 lead at halftime and dominated most of the game.

White's lone touchdown came in the final quarter when George McGaw crashed in to block Crowe's kick and Jerry Martin scooped it up to race 32 yards all by his lonesome.

In a game of many mistakes the Longhorns were defeated by Thomas Jefferson by a score of 34-7. Trolley seemed to find perfect targets to give the Rebels a 27-0 halftime lead. The Longhorns allowed only seven points to T.J. in the second half and scored on a Thompson pass to Jim De-Fontes in the end zone; nevertheless, the game went to T.J.

Until the half, the Longhorns had played a great defensive ball game, but they lost their poise in the second half, and Kimball exploded with a 41-7 win.

The White victory came on four touchdown drives as the Longhorns saved their best performance for their finale.

White scored on a 9-yard plunge by Hanlon Skillman, on a pass from Thompson to DeFontes, and a quarterback sneak by Mike Thompson. The last touchdown came when Brodie Lewis scored with 10:18 remaining in the game.

The sophomore mile relay is made up of Randy Speed, Oliver Gooden, Ronnie Johnston, and Huey Washington.

The '69 Longhorn track team, headed by Coach Jim Fowler, promised to be the best ever. The Longhorns participated in meets all over the Dallas area. They boasted a strong Mile relay team and a host of fine individual performers. In earlier meets the track team showed their strength by taking 2nd place in the Possum Kingdom Relays, only a half a point out of first. The Longhorns hoped to place many performers in the Regional Track Meet later on in the Spring.

Championship hopes nested with the arms of juniors Paul Ditto and Bill Perly, and with senior Chris Kane, and in the bats of John Haggar, Morris Hancock, Mike Langford, and John Johnston.

Miss Morris Completes Long Career

At the close of the 1969 school year, one of the area's most distinguished and dedicated chemistry teachers, Miss Ruth Morris, retired. This brought to a close an outstanding 38 year teaching career; Miss Morris taught in Dallas at Forest Avenue High School and Sunset High School before coming to White. She received her bachelor's degree at Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama and got her master's in chemistry at Columbia University. The SAGA wishes to recognize a teacher who will be long remembered.
